

MRS. BLAKE FILES HER $1,000,000 MACKAY SUIT

Says Latter "Wilfully, Wickedly and Maliciously" Won Her Husband Away.

HIS EARNINGS DIMINISHED

Unable to Support Family in Usual Style Since Mrs. Mackay Enticed Him Away, Says Mrs. Blake.

Mrs. Catharine K. Blake, who is suing Dr. Joseph A. Blake, a noted surgeon, for a separation and support, filed suit yesterday against Mrs. Katharine Duer Mackay, wife of Clarence H. Mackay. She demands $1,000,000 damages for the alienation of the affections of her husband.

Mrs. Blake says that from the time of their marriage, in 1890, until four years ago she and Dr. Blake lived happily together, and that she enjoyed his affection, support, protection and comfort. Then, she asserts, Mrs. Mackay "wilfully, wickedly and maliciously" gained him away and has ever since kept and will keep the affection of plaintiff's said husband.

Mrs. Blake says that by "wicked and wrongful acts, blandishments, flatteries and seductions" Mrs. Mackay has enticed and kept Dr. Blake from her. Mrs. Blake alleges the love of Dr. Blake for her has been destroyed because of the circumstances she has set forth, and that she has been compelled to suffer great mental and physical distress and that her health has become impaired.

Mrs. Blake alleges also that her husband's earning capacity, which she said in her suit for a separation, was $75,000 to $100,000 a year, has become greatly diminished. As a result of this, she says, the support she has received has been greatly reduced. For all of which reasons she declares she has been damaged to the extent of $1,000,000.

Mrs. Mackay, who is in Portland, Me., was served with the summons and complaint before she left New York. The failure to file the papers in the Supreme Court within three days after service, as provided by law, made it necessary for counsel for Mrs. Blake to obtain an order yesterday permitting their filing.

Mr. Mackay, who had been living with his three daughters at Spring Lake, N. J., went with them to Europe a few months ago and has not yet returned to this country. Dr. Blake was served last Thursday in the suit brought by his wife.

PIANO "GRAFT" IS CHARGED

Manufacturer Arrested—Warrants for Others Asked.

By means of a dictaphone lowered down the chimney of a six-story apartment house at No. 229 West End avenue a private detective concern, working with men of Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty's office, gathered enough evidence to appear before Chief Magistrate McAdoo and ask for warrants charging three piano manufacturers with violating Section 439 of the Penal Code.

While this evidence was not thought to be necessary, Magistrate McAdoo issued a warrant for the arrest of W. P. Collins, of the Kinder & Collins Piano Company, of No. 619 Tenth avenue, after hearing the testimony of D. R. Sarkis, a piano buyer for a department store.

Sarkis told of conversations with Collins, in which, he said, Collins promised him $10 for every piano he sold which came from the factories of the Kinder & Collins company. This company also controls the Needham Piano Company, of No. 45 West 33d street, and the Clavio Company, of No. 363 Ryder avenue, The Bronx.

Sarkis admitted that he made about $500 in the last eighteen months by "pushing" the sales of the Kinder & Collins company.

Warrants also were sought for the arrest of Hugo Ricca, of Hugo Ricca & Sons, piano manufacturers, of No. 83 Southern Boulevard, The Bronx, and Lawrence Kirchhoff, No. 259 East 133th street.

The penalty for the crime alleged is a term of from one day to one year in the penitentiary and a fine of $500, or both.

NEW ENGLAND GALESWEPT

Snow at Boston—Boats Wrecked—One Man Drowned.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Boston, Oct. 14.—Snow, rain, hail and high northeast winds gave the New England coast a premature touch of winter today.

The large, Sumner R. Mead, which left Vineyard Haven for Boston yesterday, with the large Oakland, in tow of the tug Paoli, sprang a leak off Wellfleet last night, and, after her crew had been taken off by the tug, was thrown ashore early today on the outside beach of Cape Cod, where she lies a total wreck.

The two men on board the Oakland managed to anchor their craft off Highland Light, and, despite the terrible northeast gale, refused to be taken off.

A large seine boat owned by Captain Sears Perry, of Sandwich, was blown ashore on Scorton Beach today, and Captain Perry was drowned.

LEAPS TO DEATH OFF BOAT

Man About 40 Years Old Jumps Into River from Ferry.

William Brown, a deckhand on the ferryboat Ohio, which plies between Greenpoint and East 23d street, reported to Patrolman Dalzell last evening that soon after the Ohio left Greenpoint he saw a man jump over the rail and fall into the water. Brown informed the captain of the boat, and a search of the waters failed to find any trace of the man.

Brown said the man was about forty years old, five feet ten inches in height and weighed probably 200 pounds. He wore a black suit, black derby and black shoes.

UMBRELLA HID DEATH AUTO.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Oswego, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Mrs. Frank Miller, thirty-three years old, mother of three children, was killed by an automobile today. George H. Williamson, secretary of the Oswego Automobile Club, is under $1,000 bail, his car being believed to be the one that struck Mrs. Miller. The accident occurred opposite Police Headquarters at the beginning of a heavy rainstorm. Mrs. Miller's umbrella obscuring her view of the machine.

DANIELS TO GO TO SCHOOL

Navy Head Will Be Pupil of Officers He Controls.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 14.—The possibility that Secretary of the Navy Daniels will take a course of instruction at the Naval War College here next summer has aroused much interest among the officers stationed at Newport.

Secretary Daniels, during a visit here last summer, praised highly the work of the college, and within a few days unofficial word has come from Washington indicating that the Secretary will attend lectures here, if departmental affairs permit.

STRIKES W. E. D. STOKES

Kentucky Racing Man Offended by New Yorker's Denial.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Lexington, Ky., Oct. 14.—H. Burgoyne, manager of the L. V. Harkness Walnut Hill farm here, and W. E. D. Stokes, of New York, had a difficulty at the trotting races here this afternoon when Stokes denied having received certain money which Burgoyne said had been paid to Patchen Wilkes farm.

Burgoyne, putting his hand in Stokes's face, shoved him almost off his feet and into the arms of bystanders, who prevented further trouble.

15 FIRE GIRLS APPOINTED

Men May Set Own Homes Ablaze To Be Rescued.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Winsted, Conn., Oct. 14.—"Oh, girls, isn't that just the dearest fire?" is an exclamation that probably will be heard several times here now, the local fire department today having appointed fifteen girls and women to the force as a reward for their efforts in raising a fund to buy an automobile chemical truck.

Ostensibly the young women will be called upon only to give first aid to the injured, but there can be no doubt that their duties will become more numerous. For instance, if a man hesitates to jump into a life net from the fourth floor of a burning building the young women will stand behind him, smile and pucker their lips to encourage him.

On the other hand, there is fear that men will set fire to their own homes in the hope of being rescued by the charming fire fighters.

JUST LIKE LONDON HALLS

Lew Fields to Provide New Kind of Show Here.

Lew Fields yesterday said that, beginning with the matinee of October 27, the 4th Street Music Hall would be converted into a sure enough European music hall. The programmes presented, he said, would be arranged just as those of the Alhambra and the Empire music halls in London, and consist of a big ballet, individual stars and specialty acts.

Matinees, according to the announcement, will occur daily, and the prices will range from 25 cents to $1.50 at night and from 25 cents to $1 at the matinees. Before the opening the theatre will be entirely overhauled and renovated.

The programme for the opening week will include Sam Bernard in a one-act musical comedy, "The Modiste Shop," supported by 100 people; the Agnosts, a troupe of fifty, in pantomimic acts and juggling features, and Mado Minty, from the London Opera House, with "The Spider." The performance will be closed with a production of the ballet, "Carmen."

The upstairs part of the theatre, which was used as a roof garden last summer, will be turned into a promenade for dancing. Smoking will be permitted in the evening.

PLENTY OF ORE, HE SAYS

Steel Trust Expert Optimistic—Lots in Newfoundland.

An optimistic view of the world's supply of iron ore was taken by Edwin C. Eckel, formerly of the United States Geological Survey, who was a witness yesterday in the government suit against the United States Steel Corporation. Mr. Eckel has been employed as an expert by the corporation since the Stanley investigation. He estimated the amount of iron ore in the Adirondack region at about 200,000,000 tons and said that there were vast deposits in Newfoundland. There was no reason, he said, why ore should not be mined successfully under the sea.

"The Nova Scotia Iron and Coal Company is operating submarine mines successfully," said Mr. Eckel. "It is producing a basic bessemer ore that can be delivered on shipboard at Bell Island for $1 to $1.20 a ton. Within a radius of five miles from Bell Island there are 3,500,000,000 tons of economically available ore. Newfoundland ore can be sold cheaper than Lake Superior ore."

MRS. EATON SMILINGLY FACES MURDER CHARGE

Alleged Husband Slayer Takes Liveliest Interest in Opening of Trial.

JURYMEN ALL SELECTED

Will Go To-day to the Home Where Rear Admiral Is Said To Have Died from Poison.

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 14.—The twelve jurors before whom Mrs. Jennie May Eaton will be tried on the charge of murdering her husband, Rear-Admiral Joseph Gies Eaton, at Assinippi, last March, by giving him poison, were chosen today in the Superior Court.

The defendant showed the liveliest interest in the proceedings as she watched the rapid examination of more than a hundred talesmen. Just before the hour of adjournment Eugene L. Dunham, a shoe worker, of Middleboro, was chosen as Juror No. 12.

Chief Justice Allen appointed James A. Thomas, a millwright, of Middleboro, aged sixty-four, as foreman, and the court adjourned until 9:30 o'clock to-morrow morning. The jury is as follows:

J. Ellsworth Dunham, shoe worker, Abington; Henry C. Chandler, laborer, Duxbury; James A. Thomas, millwright, Middleboro; Seneca T. Weston, farmer, Middleboro; Charles S. Tinkham, shoe worker, Middleboro; George E. Swift, farmer, Plymouth; Alfred H. Henshaw, conductor, Wareham; Daniel P. Murphy, shoe worker, Brockton; Robert W. Holmes, pedler, Carver; John G. Milner, farmer, Marshfield; Harry W. Bell, shoe worker, Whitman; Eugene L. Dunham, shoe worker, Middleboro.

Mrs. Eaton, in custody of a deputy sheriff and accompanied by her attorneys, came into court a few minutes before the convening of the session, smiling as she took her seat at the bar.

She appeared to be in excellent health. Her face had more color and was fuller than at the time of her arrest last March. She was dressed in black and carried a small handbag.

Mrs. Eaton watched the talesmen closely and was consulted by her counsel on every point before they announced any decision. When the jury was finally made up she sat back in her chair and nodded her approval. The speed with which the jury was completed seemed to please both the state and the defence.

Sheriff Porter appointed Deputies Earl P. Blake, Joseph T. Collingwood and E. S. Witham to take care of the jurors. The twelve men, whose ages range from twenty-eight to seventy, will be allowed to communicate with members of their family by mail or by telephone, provided only personal matters are touched upon.

When court reopens to-morrow morning the indictment will be read and District Attorney Albert F. Barker will make a brief opening for the state. Then the jury, accompanied by the District Attorney, William A. Morse, the chief counsel for Mrs. Eaton, and other attorneys for the defence will be taken on a special trolley car to the Eaton home at Assinippi. The trial is expected to occupy the greater part of the day.

While Mrs. Eaton has been confined in the Plymouth jail her counsel say she has written a complete history of her life since her marriage to the admiral in 1906. She has taken much exercise on the farm connected with the jail and is in good health.

MRS. HAMMOND SUES TO DIVORCE 'DEAD' HUSBAND

Gives Notice by Publication—Says Woman Sent Fake News of Death.

Mrs. Isabella Avelline Franchi Hammond, who does not believe her husband is dead, although his relatives insist he is not among the living, received permission from Justice Mills, of the Supreme Court, yesterday to file papers and serve Hammond by publication in her suit for divorce. This is the latest development in the personally conducted divorce action brought by Mrs. Hammond, who also is privileged to affix the title "Dr." before her name.

The Hammonds were married in December, 1897. Mrs. Hammond being Isabella Avelline Franchi, daughter of Giovanni Franchi, a wealthy Italian philanthropist, who died five years ago. Two years after the wedding Mrs. Hammond left her husband. She says he made a confession which made it impossible for her to live with him longer. From that day to this, according to Mrs. Hammond, she has not seen her husband, who is a dentist.

TO NAME 106 SERGEANTS

Waldo Will Announce His Selections from List To-day.

Police Commissioner Waldo has asked the Civil Service Commission for the eligible list, from which he will pick the 106 patrolmen he intends to make sergeants. The fortunate enough to head the list will jump from $1,400 to $1,750 a year. The Commissioner will announce the new sergeants today.

Detective Ralph Michelli, with 91.62 average in the recent examination, when 904 out of 3,996 passed, heads the list. It contains twelve first grade detectives, who will become sergeants, but remain on duty as detectives at salaries of $2,250.

HEIRESS BURNS TO DEATH

Two Women Patients Killed in Sanatorium Fire.

Baltimore, Oct. 14.—Mrs. Rebecca Straus, a widow, and Miss Ida Yearly, heiress to a large fortune, patients at Edgemere Sanatorium, at Govans, a suburb, were burned to death in a fire of unknown origin which destroyed the interior of the building early today. Miss Heberley, a nurse, received serious burns while assisting inmates to escape.

There were eighteen patients in the institution, whose patrons were all wealthy. All were asleep when the fire broke out, and there were many thrilling rescues by the attendants.

The speakers will include John Purroy Mitchell, Clarence J. Shearn, Joseph H. Appel and F. Irving Fletcher.

THREE WOMEN NAMED IN TEACHER-MOTHER CASE

Mrs. Gertrude Rado (Resigned), Mrs. Della Hall and Mrs. Sarah Martin Specified.

FIFTEEN TO BE ACCUSED

Board of Education to Act Two Weeks Hence—Commissioner Stern Opposed to Bylaw Forbidding Marriage.

The names of three women teachers who, with others, have brought the displeasure of the Board of Education upon themselves in the so-called crusade on teacher-mothers, became known yesterday. Additional names will be forthcoming at the meeting of the board two weeks hence. Dr. Ira S. Wile has estimated that there will be in all about fifteen teacher-mother cases to be dealt with.

At the office of Dr. William H. Maxwell, the City Superintendent of Schools, it was said yesterday that Mrs. Gertrude P. Rado, of Public School 18, in Manhattan, living in Scarsdale, had resigned rather than face the board on charges growing out of absence from school. She was to have been suspended.

It was also learned that Mrs. Della Troy Hall, of Public School 49, Manhattan, who used to live at No. 145 Undercliff avenue, The Bronx, was to be brought up on charges, orders being issued for her suspension pending the disposition of her case.

The third case is that of Mrs. Sarah C. Martin, of Public School 16, The Bronx, residing at No. 622 East 23d street. The Bronx. Charges were preferred against her by District Superintendent Joseph S. Taylor, the same official who preferred charges against Mrs. Felixotto, the teacher who was dismissed by the board last week for neglect of duty, out of which grew the much-discussed teacher-mother agitation.

Mrs. Rado said at her home, at Arthur Manor, which is a suburban section of the town of Scarsdale, last night that she resigned because she thought it was the duty of every married teacher who had babies to give up her position and look after her home and family. Mrs. Rado had been a teacher in New York for eight years, and until May of this year she taught in Public School 18. She has been married seven years and is the mother of a six-weeks-old boy.

The case of Mrs. Katherine C. Edgell, expected to come up among others in the near future, was given a different angle yesterday by Arthur S. Somers, chairman of the committee on high schools. According to Mr. Somers, Mrs. Edgell's name has not been on the payroll, despite the fact that she resumed teaching at the beginning of the present session. He will investigate what he considers an arbitrary action on the part of some official of the department in making her serve without pay. Mrs. Edgell was refused leave of absence for a year to bear and rear a child. She was permitted to resume her work in Erasmus Hall High School, Brooklyn, to which she returned in September. Dr. Maxwell will include her name in the list he will submit at the next meeting.

FIRE SWEEPS SHORE FRONT

Norwalk Houses and Launches Worth $100,000 Burned.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] South Norwalk, Conn., Oct. 14.—The shore front of East Norwalk was almost devastated by a $100,000 fire this afternoon, it being the worst conflagration in the history of the place. A lumber yard, a coal yard, several docks, a cigar store, a market, a dozen fine speed launches and yachts and a dozen houses were burned, in spite of the combined efforts of the East Norwalk, South Norwalk and Norwalk fire departments, which fought the flames for three hours, hand-leaping by a northeast gale that spread the fire rapidly. But for their work the entire section would have been fire swept.

The fire, started in Gamble's lumber yard, Joseph E. Fowler's shipyard, containing a half dozen valuable speed launches, went next. The Connecticut Supply Company, which had $10,000 worth of auto tires in stock, followed. Then came the Marvin coal and wood yards.

The flames then leaped across the street and attacked the Hafner cigar store and the Jackson meat market. All the residences on the south side of 1st street and on the west side of New street were wiped out, and the large block of the Gorman company was barely saved. The heat was so intense that the fire was burned in the street before the firemen could use it.

All the residents in the entire section forsook their homes in terror.

TROUSERS DECEIVE COURT

Young Woman Put On Male Apparel to Get Job.

When the case of Mary Patti was called in Jefferson Market court yesterday Magistrate Krotel thought a mistake had been made and a boy brought before him, but it was explained the defendant was really Miss Patti, although she wore a young man's clothes.

Miss Patti is twenty-two years old, and lives at No. 345 East 74th street. She put on a young man's suit yesterday and asked for employment in the factory of William Ruttenberg, at No. 455 Broome street. Ruttenberg, who had formerly been employed in a shop where Miss Patti worked, recognized her. He sent for a policeman and had her arrested.

The magistrate postponed the hearing of the case until to-morrow.

LAYS DIVORCE TO MUSIC

Let Women Darn and Cook, Says Priest in Court.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Cincinnati, Oct. 14.—"One reason for the great number of divorces is that women now go in for piano lessons and voice culture, but scorn plain sewing and cooking," said the Rev. G. H. Seers, of this city, the first priest to be called to testify in divorce proceedings in this county.

"If our girls knew how to cook meals and how to darn and mend their husbands would be more contented. But not all the blame lies on the woman's shoulders. The small incomes of our workingmen and the high cost of living do much to swell the percentage of divorces," Father Seers declared.

IMMATURE SCRIBES LOSE

Must Obey Rules Columbia Sets for Freshmen.

Freshmen in the School of Journalism of Columbia University must become adept in the art of self-effacement if they are to continue in the good graces of the sophomores. This is the edict that the student board of representatives issued at Columbia yesterday.

The freshmen had petitioned the board for exemption from obedience to the rules which govern the actions of the freshmen in the other departments of the university. The student board pondered long over the matter, but failed to see why freshmen in journalism should have any rights over those in college or scientific departments. Therefore the journalistic freshmen will have to wear dinky caps, and they must not smoke, wear flashy ties or socks, nor cuffs on their trousers. If they do the sophomores will get them.

NEW EXPRESS RATES DEC. 1.

Washington, Oct. 14.—The new express rates recently prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission will become effective on December 1 instead of to-morrow. A request for extension by the companies was granted to-day, but a request that the new scale be revised was refused.
